Active Travel Network Map Update 2026

Route Prioritisation Ranking

How are the routes prioritised?

To help us plan how the network is delivered over time, each route has been assessed by Transport for Wales based on the benefits it would provide to people making everyday journeys. This includes how well routes connect to key destinations such as schools, workplaces, local centres and public transport, and how they help create a joined-up, easy-to-use network. Routes that link communities with important places, close gaps in the network, and support more people to walk, wheel and cycle for daily trips have been given higher priority.

As part of this process, each route has been given a total weighted score and ranked accordingly. The routes have then been grouped into five equal categories based on their potential to support modal shift:

- Very high impact
- High impact
- Medium impact
- Low impact
- Very low impact

The very high impact category represents the top 20% of routes, identified as having the greatest potential to encourage more people to choose active travel for everyday journeys.

Based on this assessment, Transport for Wales have grouped routes into different priority categories. These categories indicate the likely order in which routes will be taken forward, rather than a fixed timetable.

- High priority routes provide the greatest benefits in connecting key destinations and supporting everyday journeys and will be the focus of early delivery.
- Medium priority routes also play an important role in improving connections across the network and are expected to come forward over time.
- Lower priority routes help complete the longer-term vision for the network, ensuring that communities are fully connected in the future.

The prioritisation will be kept under review and may change over time as local needs and opportunities evolve.
